Good morning. Welcome. It is so good to be together today on the Lord's Day to honor God in spirit and in truth: singing, praying, giving, remembering, and learning. The church of Christ in the Bible did what we are doing today. They sang psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs (Ephesians 5:19). They prayed together and shared their worldly possessions with one another (Acts 5:31-37). They meet together to remember Jesus' sacrifice in the Lord's Supper and also listened to the word of God preached (Acts 20:7). I am glad we are continuing steadfastly in the apostles' teaching and fellowship, in the breaking of bread, and in prayers (Acts 2:42). This we will continue to do just as God in His word directs. We are not alone. Christians all around the world are following the same instructions.

Continue to pray for our church secretary and dear Christian sister Rosetta Chenault as she battles back from serious surgery. She is in the hospital in Little Rock. May God bless her and the Chenault family as they continue in the work of faith, labor of love, and patience of hope (1 Thessalonians 1:4).

Our sermon today is entitled "Living Life Generously." Jesus said in Acts 20:35, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." Do you believe Him? If you do, then what should you be about doing? Jesus also said, "Give, and it shall be given to you, good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over..." Do you believe Him? If you do, then what should you be about doing? Jesus then told us that we will receive from the same measure we use to give. When we give, we are more like God. When we give, we are closer to God. When we give, we conquer materialism. Giving strengthens our faith. When we give, we are investing in eternity. When we give, we are blessed in every way. When we give, we are happy. These statements are true. Don't believe me? Try it out for yourself. Then, you will know that Jesus is exactly right.

On the evening we will take a look at the decisions we make every day and see how we can make those decisions with an eye toward eternity; "Decisions Looking Beyond the Moment." We will take a look at some in the Bible who made decisions in the passion of the moment, NOT looking beyond the moment and paid dearly. Then we will look at others who did look beyond the moment in making their decisions and enjoyed a much better outcome. I hope you will return for the evening worship hour for this lesson and for the wonderful fellowship we enjoy on Sunday evenings. Cindi says I often preach my best sermons on Sunday evening. Thank you so much for the privilege of standing before you to share lessons from the Bible that I hope will challenge you and encourage you to greater love and good works (Hebrews 10:24). MB
